

Djokovic drawn to face Nadal in French Open

● AGENCIES
Johannesburg

World No. 2 Novak Djokovic and fourteen-time Grand Slam champion Rafael Nadal have been drawn to face each other in a blockbuster French Open semi-final.

The Spaniard is looking for his 10th title at the Roland Garros while Djokovic, who would be working with new coach Andre Agassi at the tournament, is looking to defend the only major he still holds.

World No. 1 Andy Murray has been seeded to face 2015 champion Stan Wawrinka in the last four.

Murray starts against Russia's Andrey Kuznetsov, Djokovic tackles Spanish clay courtier Marcel Granollers while Nadal meets combustible Frenchman Benoit Paire, reports Sport24.

If the seedings work out, the World No. 1 would face Japan's Kei Nishikori in the last eight.

The other last eight-clashes would see Wawrinka meet Marin Cilic, Nadal meeting Milos Raonic of Canada while Djokovic could take on Dominic Thiem.

Novak Djokovic

"It was one of my last dreams in terms of tournaments that I wanted to win here," said Djokovic at the draw on Friday.

"It was missing from my list so I ticked it off and got the full set of Grand Slams."

"Looking at the trophy again brings back lots of memories. It was one of my most special feelings," he added.

In the women's draw, top seed Angelique Kerber starts her French Open campaign against Ekaterina Makarova of Russia.

The German is due to face defending champion Garbine Muguruza in the semi-finals.

Meanwhile, Spain's Muguruza has a tough opener against former champion Francesca Schiavone.

Karolina Plisova, second seed, has been drawn to face Simona Halep in the semi-finals but will start against her campaign Zheng Saisai of China. If the seedings works out, the World No. 1 will face former champion Svetlana Kuznetsova in the last eight with Muguruza locking horns with Dominika Cibulkova.

Elena Svitolina would face Halep, who she defeated in the Rome final, while Britain's Johanna Konta would be Pliskova's last-eight rival.

The French Open begins May 28. —ANI

Sharath carries Indians' hope in World TT tourney

● FPJ SPORTS DESK
Mumbai

Achanta Sharath Kamal, world ranked No. 53, will carry the Indian hopes of clinching a medal and a podium finish at the 2017 World Table Tennis Championships, to be held at Dusseldorf from May 29 to June 5. Since the championships are all about individual performances, the Indian members will have to try hard to make an impression in the eight-day event.

The other male members of the squad include Soumyajit Ghosh (No. 83), G. Sathiyam and Harmeet Desai (No. 95) while the women players are Madhurika Patkar, the reigning national champion, Manika Batra (No. 103), Mouma Das and Ayhika Mukherjee, the rookie, who will make her maiden world championships appearance.

Undoubtedly, the top-ranked Indian in the world will have to shoulder most of the burden of the eight-member squad, comprising four men and women paddlers, besides his own fans' expectations at home. In the previous edition two years ago in at Suzhou (China), the Indian spearhead was in a roaring form before pulling himself out in the third round because of a hip injury.

For the 34-year-old Indian, who could probably be playing his last world championships (individuals), the event in Germany presents a good opportunity to make a real good impression and he would try all tricks in his bags to achieve glory. The reigning national champion was in good form during the Asian Championships in China recently and Team India almost knocked the Japanese out in the quarter-finals.

The squad, accompanied by foreign coach Massimo Costantini, had reached Dusseldorf more than a fortnight ago and is going through an intense training camp at a private facility. The foreign expert, along with former national champion Soumyadeep Roy, who was drafted in by TTFI as the second coach, are training the paddlers for the most important event on the ITTF calendar.

The Indian team will also play the doubles in both sections apart from the mixed doubles where Madhurika Patkar and Madhurika Patkar will pair up with G. Sathiyam and Harmeet Desai. In men doubles, the first pair will be Sharath and Sathiyam while the second will be Ghosh and Desai. As for women doubles, Ayhika will partner Madhurika while Manika-Mouma duo will form India's second pair.

"Talking from the training base, Massimo said that the team members were in good spirit and raring to go. "We have had good training sessions since we arrived here on May 11. The players are put to strenuous sessions," said the coach.

Kei Nishikori (L) and Stan Wawrinka

Wawrinka, Nishikori advance to Geneva Open semi-finals

● AGENCIES
Geneva

Top-seeded Stan Wawrinka and second-seeded Kei Nishikori advanced to the semi-finals of the Geneva Open with come-from-behind three-set victories over Sam Querrey and Kevin Anderson, respectively.

The 32-year-old Wawrinka, who has struggled on clay thus far this season, on Thursday worked out some of the kinks in his game in a confidence-boosting 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 win over Querrey, reports Efe.

The big-serving American took the opening set without losing his serve and then went up an early break of serve in the second set against the defending champion.

But the sweet-hitting Swiss delighted the home crowd by breaking Querrey's serve twice to take the second set and two more times in a comfortable third-set victory. The third-ranked Wawrinka has a record of just 4-3 on clay this year but is looking to round into form in time for tennis' lone Grand Slam event on that surface, the French Open, which gets underway on Sunday.

In the other matches, Nishikori saved three match points before edging Anderson 2-6, 6-4, 7-6 (8-6). "There haven't been too many times that I'm down match point and win, so it's great for me. He had more chances, but I served a little bit better in the end. It's important to win some matches like this," the Japanese world No. 9 was quoted as saying on the ATP World Tour's Web site.

Wawrinka will take on 85th-ranked Russian Andrey Kuznetsov, a 6-2, 1-6, 7-5 winner Thursday night over Germany's Cedric-Marcel Stebe, in Friday's second semi-final.

The first semi-final will pit Nishikori against German qualifier and serve-and-volley practitioner Mischa Zverev, the world No. 33. —IANS

YMCA Intl House in final

● FPJ SPORTS DESK
Mumbai

Formidable YMCA International House halted Andheri YMCA with a 37-13 win to cruise into the girls' under-18 championship round, in the 125th YMCA Open Basketball Tournament.

After leading 12-7 at half-time, International launched a second-half onslaught to swell the tally to 20-10 at the end of the third quarter before going on the rampage in the fourth and final quarter. Led by pivot Ria Ravi and Rinisha Fernandes, Andheri's challenge was quelled as they struggled to breach the strong International defence. Andheri YMCA entered the boys' under-18 semi-finals following a 44-33 win over Andheri YMCA. Aarman Askari top-scored for Andheri, while Aarman Khan contributed the most for Andheri with 12 points.

Trailing 13-16 at half-time, 360 Life Changer overcame Navi Mumbai Sports Association 40-37 in a men's first round thriller.
